Hall County Quilters Guild
Meeting Minutes
October 7, 2019

Krista Moser was our October speaker, coming all the way from Seattle. She is a pattern designer working with Creative Grids rulers. Her quilts were beautiful and she said they were basically simple to make using her methods. Like many of us, she began making garments and moved on to quilting later. She had a really interesting program for us.

President Margaret Johnson led our business meeting.

The minutes were approved and the Treasurer's report was given.

We had 52 members and 2 visitors – Patty Wright and Kathy Saunders - present. We were also happy to see Ellen Black returning to us.

Peggy Johnson told us about coming programs.

Rose King, Refreshment Chairman, announced that the December meeting will be a Pot Luck.

Jenny Grandfield said that we had turned in 56 quilts to Eagle Ranch so far this year. Kits to make them are available.

Betty Wright said that she has "Quilts for Kids" kits available.

Chris Anderson announced that the February retreat is full, but you can put your name on the waiting list. She also has dog beds to fill for the Humane Centers.

The meeting concluded with a "Show and Tell" and a raffle.

Respectfully Submitted,
Julie Monroe, Secretary

Cummings, Victoria Findlay Wolfe, Susan Hudson, Judith Content

56 out of 72 - 77.7%

We continue to have a good amount of Eagle Ranch quilts turned in. We are up to 56 quilts so far. That's fantastic!!! However, we have gone two months without anyone signing out kits. This will be the last month to sign out a kit before the New Year! I know several of you will be working on Christmas gifts and what a great time to start a Leader/Ender project (A Bonnie Hunter - Quiltville sewing method)!! Finish your Christmas project and start a Eagle Ranch quilt at the same time.

AS ALWAYS - Return your patterns with your quilts (we recycle), read your directions and try to keep your quilt 60" x 72".

Thanks to everyone who has turned in a quilt this year so far! We really have some nice ones to give away next year.

Jenny G, Jenny T and Peggy J.

Thank you to those who will be bringing refreshments for our next meeting

HOW TO ADD A SLEEVE TO YOUR QUILT

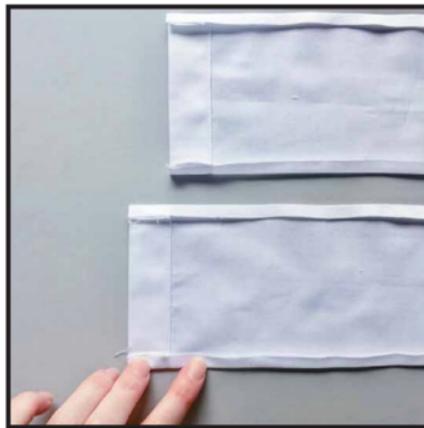

If you are not a fan of thumb tacks, and you want to know the best way to discreetly hide a rod or slat behind a quilt, this tutorial is for you!

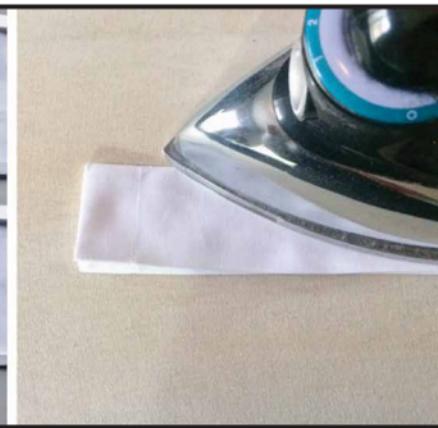

1. Lay your quilt out and measure the top edge from one side to the other. Cut enough $4\frac{1}{2}$ " strips (or bigger if you like) to span the width of the quilt. Sew the strips together, end to end, and press the seams open.

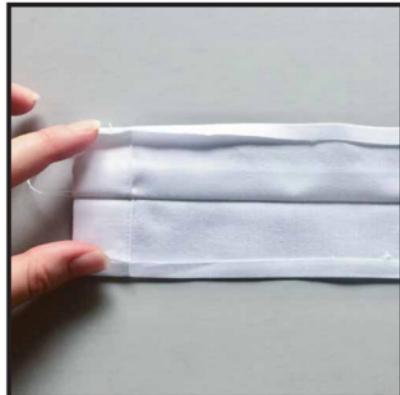

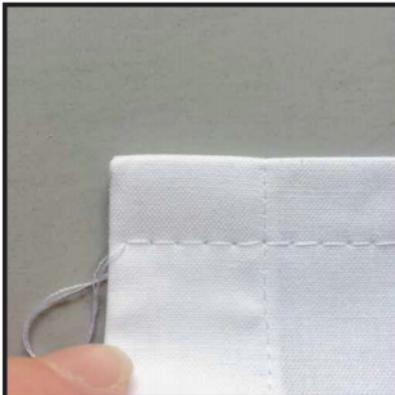

2. Cut the strip down to the length needed (I cut mine exactly the same as the top edge of the quilt). Then, fold under each end 1", and then again 1". Press and sew. This hem will make the sleeve fall inside the edge of the quilt, 2" on each edge, just enough to conceal the mounting hooks.

3. Now, press both long edges under $\frac{1}{4}$ ". Press the whole thing in half lengthwise.

4. Lengthen your stitch length as long as it will go (mine goes to 5.0). Sew a stay-stitch $\frac{1}{2}$ " from the folded edge. No need to back stitch, these stitches will be removed before we are done.

5. Press the sleeve open to flatten out the flap.

7. Pin the sleeve to the top edge of the quilt. Whip stitch or use a hidden "binding" stitch down both edges, securing the beginning and end with several knots. Note: If I hadn't already faced this quilt and was instead doing a traditional binding, I would have tucked the top edge of the sleeve in with the binding seam, meaning I would only be hand stitching down the bottom edge.

8. Now, it's time to take out that stay-stitching. This opens up a pocket of extra fabric to easily fit a rod into without it pushing the front of the quilt out.

9. Here it is with a large dowel in it, and the front of the quilt hangs totally flat. This would work even with a larger curtain rod.

10. I plan to hang this one on a slat board, like a yardstick, and mount it to the wall with some temporary hooks.

11. This style hook gives it a very low profile against the wall though, and that is perfect for where I want to hang it!
